Creating a DevOps department will solve all our problems

Hello, I am the Head of DevOps here

When are we done with DevOps?

On-call is a DevOps problem

Our DevOps team does all that Ops stuff now.

Let‘s hire more DevOps Engineers!

The DevOps guys do on-call for us

We need to transition our engineers to DevOps

DevOps is forto

… if every person uses the same tool for the same job

… codified knowledge - everybody contributes his part to common automation

… if all people have the same privileges in their tooling

… if human error is equally possible for Dev and Ops

… replacing people interfaces by automated decisions and processes

DevOps is like a driving license for running code in production
